Mainland Chinese fighter crossed Taiwan Strait meridian in June

- Publication Date : 07/25/2011
- Source : United Daily News

A mainland Chinese fighter jet crossed the median line in the Taiwan Strait in late June while attempting to chase off a U.S. Air Force U-2 reconnaissance plane on a monitoring mission in the region, according to foreign sources.

In response, the ROC Air Force quickly dispatched two F-16 fighters to the area, at which point the mainland Su-27 fighter returned to the mainland side of the median line, the sources said.

The ROC military, which closely monitored the whole course of events as they unfolded, determined the incident to be an isolated case. Afterwards, it notified the Presidential Office of the incident.

Fan Chiang Tai-chi, spokesman for the office, said the Ministry of National Defense handled the matter based on established formulas.

MND spokesman Lo Shao-ho pointed out that Taiwan's military has the ability to effectively monitor the activities of mainland military aircraft.

"The military deals immediately with any unusual situation according to standard procedures, to safeguard Taiwan's air space," Lo explained.

According to the sources, the incident occurred while the U-2 aircraft was flying from the U.S. Air Force's Osan Air Base in South Korea to Kadena Air Base in the Japanese prefecture of Okinawa.

The U.S. Air Force reportedly informed the Taiwan side in advance of the monitoring mission, whose route passed through Taiwan's air defense identification zone. (SB)

Dear Lonnie,

I'm sure you're justifiably focused on the debt ceiling right now, but I just wanted to let you know the attached F-16 letter that we've previously discussed is going out tomorrow. And as of yesterday, I didn't see Congressman Berg's name among the 166 Members below who have so far signed it. And as per furthest below, the need for a robust Taiwan air defense is as acute as ever.

If Congressman Berg wishes to sign the letter, which we hope he does, please contact Jeremy Kadden, jeremy.kadden@mail.house.gov, in Rep. Shelley Berkley's office today at (202) 225-5965. Dear Colleague:

We invite you to join us in sending the following letter to President Obama regarding the sale of F-16s to the Republic of China (Taiwan).

As you know, in 2010, the Obama Administration released a $6.4 billion arms package to Taiwan that included Patriot missiles, Black Hawk helicopters, mine hunters and military communications equipment. While we welcomed this very positive step, we were disappointed the package did not include sixty-six F-16 fighter aircraft that Taiwan has sought as well.

Taiwan lives under a constant military threat from the People's Republic of China (PRC), which has an estimated 1,400 short and medium-range ballistic missiles pointed directly at Taiwan. The U.S. Defense Intelligence Agency recently concluded that Taiwan's air defense is showing increasing vulnerability due to the aging of their air force fighter aircraft, in contrast to the PRC's increasing military capabilities.

Taiwan is a fellow democracy facing a very serious threat. At this crucial time in their history and in U.S.-Taiwan relations, we hope you will join us in sending this important letter, to ensure our ally's future security and stability. If you would like to sign, please contact Jeremy Kadden of Rep. Berkley's staff at jeremy.kadden@mail.house.gov.

Dear Mr. President:

We are writing to express our concerns about the military imbalance in the Taiwan Strait. In order to maintain peace and stability in the Taiwan Strait, we believe it is critical for the United States to sell to the government of Taiwan all the F-16C/D aircraft it requestes. We respectfully request that your administration move quickly to announce its support for such a sale and submit the required Congressional Notification for a sale as soon as possible.

Successive reports issued by U.S. and Taiwanese defense authorities outline the threat Taiwan continues to face, including the continued military buildup by the People's Republic of China. For example, Beijing has more than 1,400 missiles aimed at Taiwan and continues to add to this total. China is forging ahead and deploying next generation military technology. Military experts both in Taiwan and in the United States have raised alarms that Taiwan is losing its qualitative advantage in defensive arms that have long served as a primary military deterrent.

Due to impending changes within Taiwan's force structure, we respectfully urge a timely resolution to the aircraft sale issue. Within the next decade Taiwan will retire 70% of its fighter force and without new fighter aircraft and upgrades to its existing fleet of F-16s, Taiwan's situation could become quite precarious.

As you know, the Taiwan Relations Act of 1979 (TRA) states that it is U.S. policy "to consider any effort to determine the future of Taiwan by other than peaceful means...of grave concern to the United States." We remain deeply concerned that delays in the decision on the sale of F-16s to Taiwan and subsequently notifying Congress of their sale could very well result in closure of the F-16 assembly line. In addition to enhancing Taiwan's security, approval of the pending sale would support thousands of American jobs-especially well-paying jobs in the manufacturing sector.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to your reply.

Dear Jay,

I'm sure you're justifiably focused on the debt ceiling right now, but I just wanted to let you know the attached F-16 letter that we've previously discussed is going out tomorrow. And as of yesterday, I didn't see Congressman Reed's name among the 166 Members' names below who have so far signed it. And as per furthest below, the need for a robust Taiwan air defense is as acute as ever. I just wanted to make sure you knew about tomorrow's deadline, as I'm sure this is a letter with which Mr. Reed would like to associate himself (especially as he'll be there in October).

If Congressman Reed does wish to sign the letter, please contact Jeremy Kadden, jeremy.kadden@mail.house.gov, in Rep. Shelley Berkley's office today at (202) 225-5965.

As you know, Park Strategies, LLC, Park Strategies Managing Director Senator Alfonse M. D'Amato, and I are registered with the U.S. Department of Justice, under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, as agents on behalf of our client, the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) in the United States.

Thanks so much again for your consideration.

Dear Colleague:

We invite you to join us in sending the following letter to President Obama regarding the sale of F-16s to the Republic of China (Taiwan).

As you know, in 2010, the Obama Administration released a $6.4 billion arms package to Taiwan that included Patriot missiles, Black Hawk helicopters, mine hunters and military communications equipment. While we welcomed this very positive step, we were disappointed the package did not include sixty-six F-16 fighter aircraft that Taiwan has sought as well.

Taiwan lives under a constant military threat from the People's Republic of China (PRC), which has an estimated 1,400 short and medium-range ballistic missiles pointed directly at Taiwan. The U.S. Defense Intelligence Agency recently concluded that Taiwan's air defense is showing increasing vulnerability due to the aging of their air force fighter aircraft, in contrast to the PRC's increasing military capabilities.

Taiwan is a fellow democracy facing a very serious threat. At this crucial time in their history and in U.S.-Taiwan relations, we hope you will join us in sending this important letter, to ensure our ally's future security and stability. If you would like to sign, please contact Jeremy Kadden of Rep. Berkley's staff at jeremy.kadden@mail.house.gov.

Sincerely,

SHELLEY BERKLEY

Dear Mr. President:

We are writing to express our concerns about the military imbalance in the Taiwan Strait. In order to maintain peace and stability in the Taiwan Strait, we believe it is critical for the United States to sell to the government of Taiwan all the F-16C/D aircraft it requestes. We respectfully request that your administration move quickly to announce its support for such a sale and submit the required Congressional Notification for a sale as soon as possible.

Successive reports issued by U.S. and Taiwanese defense authorities outline the threat Taiwan continues to face, including the continued military buildup by the People's Republic of China. For example, Beijing has more than 1,400 missiles aimed at Taiwan and continues to add to this total. China is forging ahead and deploying next generation military technology. Military experts both in Taiwan and in the United States have raised alarms that Taiwan is losing its qualitative advantage in defensive arms that have long served as a primary military deterrent.

Due to impending changes within Taiwan's force structure, we respectfully urge a timely resolution to the aircraft sale issue. Within the next decade Taiwan will retire 70% of its fighter force and without new fighter aircraft and upgrades to its existing fleet of F-16s, Taiwan's situation could become quite precarious.

As you know, the Taiwan Relations Act of 1979 (TRA) states that it is U.S. policy "to consider any effort to determine the future of Taiwan by other than peaceful means...of grave concern to the United States." We remain deeply concerned that delays in the decision on the sale of F-16s to Taiwan and subsequently notifying Congress of their sale could very well result in closure of the F-16 assembly line. In addition to enhancing Taiwan's security, approval of the pending sale would support thousands of American jobs-especially well-paying jobs in the manufacturing sector.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,
